ABSTRACT

This document is the 16th issue of an annual series of bibliographic work in New Zealand. The first section, "Bibliographical Work in Progess at June 1995," is compiled from a questionnaire mailed to bibliographers who are listed in the 1993 and 1994 issues and who have not since published; and to educational, government, medical, special, and large public libraries in New Zealand. Entries from the 1994 issue for which details have not been re-confirmed are marked. The second section, "Bibliographies Published Since June 1994," is compiled from the following: submissions from librarians and bibliographers, entries in the "New Zealand National Bibliography" (July 1994-June 1995) and "Index New Zealand" (July 1994-June 1995), library accessions lists, and bibliographies received by the University of Waikato Library, as well as a few titles published prior to June 1994 which have not been listed in earlier issues. Entries are listed only once and arranged under the following broad section headings: general bibliographies, special classes of material, and librarianship; philosophy and religion; social sciences; biological and medical sciences; agriculture, forestry and fisheries; engineering, domestic, and applied sciences; arts; recreation and sport; language and literature; geography, history, and area studies; and personal bibliography. A subject and author index is also included. (AEF)

INTRODUCTION

This sixteenth issue of Bibliographical Work in New Zealand is divided into two sections. The first, Bibliographical Work in Progress at June 1995, is compiled from a questionnaire mailed to all bibliographers listed in Bibliographical Work in New Zealand 1993 and 1994 who have not since published, and to educational, government, medical, special and large public libraries in New Zealand. Not all bibliographers to whom questionnaires were sent replied. Since it is assumed that their work is still in progress, entries from the 1994 issue have been repeated in this issue, but marked with a ≈ symbol to indicate that the details have not been re-confirmed. Entries from the 1993 issue have not, however, been re-listed unless an updated return has been received.

The second section, Bibliographies Published Since June 1994, is compiled from submissions from librarians and bibliographers, from entries in the New Zealand National Bibliography July 1994 – June 1995 and Index New Zealand July 1994 – June 1995, from library accessions lists, and from bibliographies received by the University of Waikato Library. A few titles published prior to June 1994 which have not been listed in earlier issues of BWINZ have also been included.

Entries in both these sections are arranged under broad subject headings. Each item is, however, listed once only, and since some items could fall under several headings, the user may need to scan several sections, or consult the Subject Index, to locate bibliographies of interest.

I am very grateful to all who replied, and especially to the many librarians who forwarded the questionnaires to bibliographers within their respective institutions or otherwise provided information and assistance.

Bibliographical Work in New Zealand 1995 has been produced using VISOR, an information storage and retrieval program developed at the University of Waikato, and has been printed from copy produced by an APPLE LaserWriter laser printer using the TEX typesetting package. The assistance of Rex Croft from the University's Computer Services Department is gratefully acknowledged.

I should appreciate receiving notification of any errors in or omissions from this bibliography.
